Advent season

Today we begin the celebration of the Advent season. As we do so, our thoughts turn to the claims of Christmas. Have you ever paused to consider just exactly what it is that Christmas claims? Christmas makes claims such as that God intervened in human history; that what ancient writers said can be applied to Jesus, born long after their time; that God became flesh, and that Jesus was born of a virgin. These claims are no small matter. For some, they are very difficult to believe. No wonder Christmas has become a battleground for some! And yet it is those very claims that we intend to examine in our current sermon series, "Theology in a Manger: The Outrageous Claims of Christmas."

Along those lines, consider what Henri Nouwen says: "Songs, good feelings, beautiful liturgies, nice presents, big dinners, and sweet words do not make Christmas. Christmas is saying yes to something beyond all emotions and feelings. Christmas is saying yes to a hope based on God's initiative, which has nothing to do with what I think or feel. Christmas is believing that the salvation of the world is God's work and not mine."

Christmas says that salvation "is God's work and not mine." Maybe that's why Dietrich Bonhoeffer, imprisoned by Hitler during World War II, wrote to his fiancé about one lesson he had learned from his life in prison. "A prison cell, in which one waits, hopes, does various unessential things, and is completely dependent on the fact that the door of freedom has to be opened from the outside is not a bad picture of Advent." How true!

Join us each week as we examine the outrageous claims of Christmas.

December Building Fund Offering

Forgive me for being repetitive, but please remember our building fund offering this month—and especially on December 15. And don't forget—every gift counts and every giver matters!

May God bless you this Christmas season.
